CUTS HIS THROAT.

San Francisco Longshoreman Ends His Life with Razor.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 5.—Failing to end his life with a dull razor he made many gashes in his throat, William Lofgran, a longshoreman living at 13½ Fallon street, walked from the kitchen to sleeping room with blood gushing from his ugly wounds and there, standing before a mirror, finished his gruesome task with a blade of keen edge.

Lofgran has been drinking heavily for some weeks and has been unable to sleep. He told Mrs. Annie Crane, his landlady, that he was going to commit suicide, and when he told her the woman noticed that he held a razor in his hand. He was standing in the doorway leading to the kitchen at the time, and the frightened woman rushed by him to give the alarm. Her cries awakened E. F. Barthol, a lodger in the house who in and policeman lodger and landlady hastened to Lofgran's sleeping apartment.

They found the dead man lying upon the bed. He had managed to stagger to the bed after he had slashed his throat from ear to ear, and he stood before the mirror and the crimson trail leading from the kitchen to the bedroom told the story of his futile attempt to end his life with a dull razor.

Shortly before 6 o'clock this morning Coroner Walsh was notified of the suicide and a deputy was detailed to remove the body to the morgue, and inquest will be held.

Lofgran was a native of Norway, 35 years of age and unmarried. He had been living in the city for a number of years and when not in his cups was an industrious, hard working man.

ATHLETES NOT INJURED.

NEW YORK, April 14.—In reply to a message of inquiry as to the truth of a statement in the story dated Gibraltar, April 13, saying that several members of the American athletic team bound for Athens had been injured in a storm during the voyage, the Associated Press correspondent at Gibraltar has cabled the following:

"I am informed by the captain of the steamer Barbarossa, that the voyage was a splendid one. He and the steamer agents confirm the statement that the athletes are in fine condition."
